FORSFOOD PEELING LINE

Forsfood's versatile peeling line is a good solution when an industrial-efficient baseline is needed. The line includes functions from tipping the box to stone separation, peeling and rinsing all the way to packaging. The line also includes a disinfection / dip treatment function, as well as a waste transfer function. The line can be expanded later and can be connected to further processing functions. The heart of the line is Forsfood's "Machines from North" product family peeling machine, which is available with different peeling technologies. All machines are energy efficient and durable. Contact us, design and build a suitable line for your use.

Products: Potato, carrot, beetroot, lute, etc. medium and large roots e.g. sweet potato.
